MUSIC WITH MEALS.

One Respect In Which Oklahoma Hotel

Keepers Are Up to Date.

The hotels of Oklahoma up to last fall were few and far between. Having tried several with little success, a party of hungry "tenderfeet" was directed by a commercial traveler to a little place on a corner. The commercial man said it did not look inviting, but it was clean. That was an inducement the party had not heard of in that section, and it turned in for supper. The dining room was one in which the family lived. A folding bed stood in one corner. An old time bureau was opposite. A box stove was in the way, and about it were several old fashioned chairs. A few family pictures hung front the old motto, in the blessing of the powers, etc., on the household. The party asked for supper and was told to be seated until the meal was prepared. Two girls, delicate with much weariness in their faces, spread the table. When the meal was brought on, they simply said, "Supper is ready" and disappeared.

The party gathered about the meal, and it was agreeably disappointing. While it was being devoured—that is the best word to use, even at this distance from the table—the two girls came into the room, accompanied by their mother, a woman whose hair was white and whose face was a study. There must have been time when she was beautiful. They came in as if they had been billed for the occasion. They went to one corner of the room, and then the party discovered that there was one of those old time melodeons in an out-of-the-way place. The mother took her place at the keys, and as the mournful melodies responded to her touch the daughters sang, "Nearer My God to Thee," "Nellie Gray," and then "Lorena."

Think of "Lorena" on a melodeon in Oklahoma! The party having finished supper, one of them paid the bill, and then the music ceased. It was a question which no one of that party was ever able to agree upon, or they had not up to last accounts. Was the music of that night for the purpose of entertainment or to forestall the possibility of ejaculating any of the orders?—Chicago Tribune.

Friendships of Snakes.
There is a certain coolness almost to be called a positive want of cordiality between snakes and human beings. More, the snake is never a social favorite among the animals called lower. No body makes an intimate friend of a snake. Popular natural history books are filled and running over with anecdotes of varying elegance and mendacity, setting forth extraordinary affection and co-operation between a cat and a mouse, a horse and a hen, a pig and a cockroach, a camel and a lobster, a cow and a wheelbarrow and so on, but there is never a snake in one of these quaint alliances. Snakes do not do that sort of thing, and the anecdote designer's imagination has not yet risen to the feat of compelling them, although the stimulus of competition may soon cause it.

The case most nearly approaching one of friendship between man and snake known to me is the case of Tyrrell, the zoo snakekeeper, and his "laidy worms." But then the friendship is mostly on Tyrrell's side, and, moreover, Tyrrell is rather more than human, as any one will admit who sees him hang boa constrictors around his neck. Of course one often hears of boys making pets of common English snakes, but a boy is not a human creature at all. He is a kind of harpy.—Arthur Morrison in Strand Magazine.

NEVADA STATE JOURNAL.

FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1893.

CHICANERY OF POLITICIANS.

The New York goldbug papers are beginning to change their views on the silver question. The Times admits that the repeal of the Sherman act, without the enactment of a substitute for it, will mean the permanent demonetization of silver and the establishment of a single gold standard in the United States. In commenting on the proposed repeal of the act, the Empire of Finance and Trade notes the miserable chicanery of politicians in putting out paper money for bullion instead of coins. The purpose of this was to keep as much as possible of the demonetization act of 1873 in force and to retain all the following possible of the English style of finances and monopoly of the moneyed class. It put the operators in a box and before the effect of the act was known by them a perfect trap was laid for the government and the authors of the law in the act itself, for it compelled the government to pay the certificates in gold as well as silver, while the government was destroying the value of silver and putting it into its vaults as a commodity only and out of reach or power of the people to convert it into money. The want of foresight by the authors of the dastardly act prevented them seeing the trap the government was put into. Now the hue and cry of the money power to have the Sherman act repealed is raised for the purpose of being let out of the trap and they are growing willing to consent to free coinage if they cannot get out of the trap in any other way. Finance and Trade concludes a long article on the subject as follows:

"A further part of the miserable picture we must show the people is the way the silly trap of the politicians operated to catch the parties who put it up for catching others, and to prevent the further coming of silver. By the demonetizing act silver is degraded and made as valueless as the act of the government could make it, and the Sherman act, as we have stated, only permits buying of silver bullion and the giving of paper money for its price, payable in coin, and with which paper people can demand gold of the government to the extent of all the bullion bought and packed away. By this brilliant act of congress all the holders of the paper are informed that silver is worthless as money, but gold is of great value, and they have only to go to one end of the treasury to get the paper with silver bullion, and then go to the other end to get gold for the paper."

"The government does not want the people to get gold for the paper money of course, but is preventing them getting silver in payment by its own act of destroying the value of silver, and keeping it in a state of bullion or uncoined metal, and putting the metal away where it is of no use to the government or people. It is now complaining of the demands of the miners for a proper coming of silver for themselves, and ultimately for all persons, on account of its certain circulation among the people soon afterwards. What competent business man would do so foolish a thing in his own business as to destroy one part of his goods while he wants to sell them at a proper price, and make people buy the other part only when he has but a limited means of getting more of the kind. The whole performance, of course, was a mere folly and a miserable burlesque of legislation upon the subject of silver. It was no more and no less than a tampering with the money of the people, to obtain advantages for a class at the expense and suffering of others. It will tell as the people learn its character."

THE WOOL MARKET.

Wool is cheaper than it has been in six or eight years. It is several cents per pound less than it was earlier in the season. The falling off in price is attributed to different causes. Some assert that it is due to over-production and the depression in Australia, which is a large producer of the article. Others contend that it is owing to a combination of manufacturers and dealers who, to depress the market, flog on producers with the cry that congress at its next session will put wool on the free list.

As no change has yet been made in the tariff laws since the passage of the McKinley bill and as the tariff on wool is higher than it ever has been, it is not probable that the depression in Australia has anything to do with the low price of wool in the United States. Imports have not been increased in the last year consequently the market is not overstocked with foreign wool, and the low price of the article cannot be due to that cause. The decline in price must, therefore, be the result of fear that congress will admit wool free of duty and this fear newspapers, which favor a modification of existing tariff laws, say is groundless.

The party in power is pledged to the tariff for revenue only principle. The expenditures of the government are about $500,000,000, or half a billion a year. The greater part of the revenue required to meet this expenditure must be collected at the custom houses from the duties on imports. In adjusting the tariff, that is arranging new schedules, great care will doubtless be taken to prevent the crippling of any legitimate industry. Thousands have been encouraged by favorable legislation to engage in wool-growing and it would be unjust, simply because there has been a change of administration, to ruin all who have engaged in the business by opening our ports to free admission of wool from all parts of the world, especially when a tariff has to be maintained to provide revenue for the support of the government. It is therefore highly improbable that wool will be put on the free list at the next session of congress or that a modified tariff law passed by congress will go into effect immediately. The people like fair play in legislation as well as in other matters, and if the tariff on wool is reduced as it probably will be, the new schedule will not go into effect until this season's crop at least is disposed of. That is the opinion of administration leaders and newspapers and as it is based on justice, there is not much reason to doubt its correctness. A party entrusted with full control of the legislative, and executive departments of the government will not rashly enact laws that would financially ruin thousands of industrious citizens and woolgrowers should not be frightened by the cry of buyers and manufacturers that wool will at once be placed upon the free list.

MONEY FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

It is Transferred in a Very Simple Manner.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—An extensive shipment of money by telegraph from New York to San Francisco was made to-day by direction of United States Treasurer Morgan. The bank failure yesterday on the Pacific coast has evidently spurred the banks to increase the supply of ready money to meet any emergency that may arise. This money was transferred in a simple manner. A bank in San Francisco telegraphs its New York correspondent to place in the sub-treasury at New York a given sum of money to its credit to be sent to the San Francisco bank. The sub-treasurer at New York telegraphs the sub-treasurer at San Francisco to credit the bank with the given amount of money. The San Francisco bank thus saves the express charges and the government, which reserves the gold for the money it transfers by telegraph, builds up its gold. It is a mutual arrangement by which the banks and the government are benefited.

Two Killed and Two Wounded.

Special to the JOURNAL.

PATRICK, A. T., June 22.—A serious fire occurred this morning at 4 o'clock, resulting in the death of James W. Hitt and a young woman known as Viola Brooks. J. H. Bishop, a wealthy sheepman, and a woman named Josie Martin received serious injuries. All four occupied rooms up stairs in the house where the fire occurred, and the fire originated in a hall under the stairway, shutting off all egress by this means. Bishop and the Martin woman jumped from the second story window and escaped with severe injuries. Hitt had been drinking heavily during the night. After the fire was extinguished his body was found near a window as though he had attempted to escape. The body of the Brooks woman was also found near the window.

Special to the JOURNAL.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—The latest advices from Perry, Kansas, where eleven people were reported killed by a cyclone last night and more missing, is to the effect that no more bodies were found. The storm swept over a space half a mile wide and several miles in length, completely demolishing every structure in its path, and killing or seriously injuring every person within the area named. Those killed were found to be horribly mangled when the bodies were gathered up to-day. Of the injured three will probably die. The old stone house on the bluffs of Kaw river, formerly occupied by John Brown, the noted abolitionist, was destroyed in this storm.

Uneasiness in Banking Circles.

Special to the JOURNAL.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Uneasiness still prevails in banking circles on account of the Western and Pacific coast bank troubles. All day the banks and private banking houses here were receiving bad news from California, particularly from Los Angeles, with a demand for currency. The bankers do not as a rule place much reliance on the heralded return of gold from Europe. The half a million on its way here is regarded as a mere drop in the bucket.

PORTLAND, Or., June 22.—Senator Mitchell received a telegram to-day from Vice-President Stevenson, asking him to assist Senator White of California in representing the United States senate at the funeral of Senator Stanford.

The senator says it is impossible for him to attend owing to the lateness of the notification. He regrets very much that he cannot be present.

No Pension Deficiency.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—There will be no pension deficiency for the current fiscal year which ends the thirtieth of June. That is assured by the figures obtained from the treasury department to-day. There will be a surplus of about $1,600,000. This will be turned into the treasury.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done wonders in curing scrofula. Proofs furnished on application.

Laborers must be scarce at Amedee as Jim Hensley of that place advertises for twenty men.

The Misses Mamie and Agnes Bell, daughters of Warden Bell, arrived from the capital last evening.

Do not forget the grand promenade concert and dance and trick bicycle riding at the pavilion this evening.

Chris Jacomy began training yesterday for his wrestling match with Chas. Morrow which will take place on July 5th.

Another young expressman arrived yesterday and Ed Carpenter is disposed to take a vacation on account of the event.

When you feel "as cross as a cat," a dose of Ayer's Pills will make you as good natured as a kitten. Try them for biliousness.

Two of the Lauer brothers, merchants and bankers at Alturas, Modoc county, Cal., arrived yesterday from the world's fair on their way home.

Every business house should have a canvas sign for the Fourth of July. Pugh & Cook are experts in that kind of work. See their card.

Dr. W. A. Phillips was called to Battle Mountain Tuesday morning in attendance on G. W. Crum, where he still remains at this writing.

There was some little excitement on the street last evening caused by local sprinters trying their speed. Scott Hart was declared champion.

There seems to be no doubt among the officers that John Marshall, the notorious stage robber, killed Messer Tovey on the Ione's stage.

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers is a popular preparation in one bottle, and colors evenly a brown or black. Any person can easily apply it at home.

James Black, formerly a rancher on the Meadows, now of Virginia city, visited Reno yesterday. He says times are unusually quiet on the Comstock.

Mrs. Allie Davis, widow of the late ex-Lieutenant Governor Davis, arrived from Carson last evening with her children, on her way to her old home in Illinois, where she intends to reside henceforth.

As the 4th of July comes on Tuesday this year, some men in San Francisco are trying to work up a public opinion in favor of making a three days' holiday from Sunday to Tuesday inclusive.

The Republican says several Indians have been sent from Truckee to the world's fair to participate in a "Wild West" show somewhat after the manner of Buffalo Bill's world's famed show.

Jimmy Ordway, the champion trick bicycle rider, will give an exhibition of his skill on the streets between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day. Hastings' cornet band will be with him during his exhibition.

Mrs. Margery Trusk of San Francisco accompanied by Miss Jennie Allen, passed through to Carson yesterday morning on a visit to her brother, Deputy Controller Morton Horton. Mr. Horton was at the depot here to meet them.

The Carson Appeal shows by figures from the Auditor's books that the Silver party ran Ormsby county $2,750, cheaper the first five months of 1893 than the Republican party did in the corresponding months of 1892.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cosmo Commercial Company will be held at the office of the secretary on Monday, July 10th. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Golden Gate Advertising Company will also be held at the same time and place.

The Republican says in digging a ditch for the new water pipe a Truckee safe was unearthed which had been rolled out of a burning building 23 years ago, and which had been buried in the debris and long ago forgotten. It is surprising that the Truckeeites did not advertise the find as a relic of prehistoric times.

By direction of Secretary Carlisle the July interest in 4-per cent United States bonds amounting to $5,624,000, and the July interest on Pacific railroad bonds amounting to $1,900,000 will be paid next Monday to relieve the tension in the money market. If the secretary would set all the mints coining the billion now stored in the treasury and pay out the dollars as fast as they were coined he might avert a panic.

Lieutenant-Governor Poujade arrived from Carson last evening.

UNIFORM EXAMINATION LAW.
The State Board of Education Preparing to Comply With Its Provisions.

An act to provide for uniform examinations for teachers' certificates, approved March 6, 1893, provides that such examinations shall be held in the several counties semi-annually, beginning on the first Monday in January and July, and continuing not more than three days at any one examination; provided, that the interests of the schools in any county requires such examinations.

The questions used for written work in teachers' examinations shall be prepared by the state board of education, and shall be uniform throughout the state. Such examination questions shall be forwarded to the various county superintendents by the state superintendent of public instruction, under seal of the state board of education, and shall not be opened by county superintendents or others until the first day of the examination for which they are prepared.

Examination papers of applicants shall be graded by the county boards of examination, and shall be kept on file in the offices of county superintendents for such time as the board may direct. All applicants shall reach such standing as the state board may require in written examinations in order to obtain a certificate.

The state board of education shall not endorse county certificates submitted to them for such purpose for use in other counties, until the state superintendent is satisfied from an inspection of the examination papers of the person holding such certificate that such endorsement should be made.

No certificate shall be granted by any county board of examination without an examination of the applicant in accordance with the regulations of the state board of education, except to persons holding diplomas of graduation from state normal schools or from colleges or universities of approved standing as educational institutions.

The state board of education which consists of the governor, state superintendent of public instruction and register of the state land office, has prepared the questions for the examinations to be held in July next, but as the law provides that the examinations shall be held only when the interests of the schools in any county requires it, it is possible that the question Who is to determine whether the interests of the schools in a county require such examination? may be raised and the law does not seem to authorize anybody to answer it.

The act explicitly declares, however, that the written questions must be propounded by the state board of education and if an examination is held it must be in January or July.

REGISTERED CHINESE.

Thirteen Thousand Celestials Compiled With the Geary Act.

Complete official returns of Chinese registration under the Geary act have been received by Commissioner Miller of the Internal Revenue Bureau. They show that of the 110,000 Chinese in the United States only 13,179 registered under the Geary act and the number in each of the sixty-three internal revenue districts is given as follows:

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SAVING COPPER.

A Simple but Effective Method Used in Montana.

There are many kinds of mines and numerous inventions for saving precious metals, but the strangest one in the United States, and perhaps in the world, is in Butte, Mont. When mines were discovered in Butte it was found that the water found in the fissures was strongly impregnated with copper in solution, so much so that iron cages, cars and tools of all kinds were quickly destroyed by the affinity of the copper for the iron.

Only few weeks' immersion in the water reduces a mass of iron to pulp, a fact which makes it necessary for all material used in the mine and composed of iron or steel to be replaced at frequent intervals.

For a long time the water pumped out of the mine went to waste, as no method was known of extracting the copper from it. After awhile, however, a discovery was made that is being utilized to good advantage.

Some tin cans found their way into the small stream. In a short time it was noticed that they had every appearance of being made of pure copper, so thickly were they coated with that metal. They were regarded as curiosities by all who saw them, but presently one man saw farther than the "curiosity" — he saw the use.

He began to experiment and found that old cans and iron junk thrown into the water were soon destroyed, leaving in their stead a rich deposit of copper. He thought it would pay to extract the copper from the water by this process, and immediately purchased the exclusive right to the water.

Then he put in a series of reservoirs and tanks along the little gulch where the water ran. These he filled with all the old metal to be had in town, including barrel hoops. At the end of six months he found the old junk was totally destroyed and in its place was a sedimentary deposit in the bottom of the reservoirs and tanks which was eighty per cent copper.—Silver State.

Townsendisms.

Secretary Carlisle says "there is no demand for silver money." If he could run country newspaper for a while he would change his tune and become clamorous for any kind of money, just as we are now.

Dr. Briggs, the Presbyterian heretic, believes in purgatory as a place not so bad as hell, and differing from hell because it is possible, yet very hard, to get out of it. This is something like Lundy in winter and Bridgeport in fly time.

The Mugwump of Tophet—or some such a title—is visiting Yosemite. He is said to be loaded down with rare jewels and precious truck. It would be a neat move to invite him to Lundy and go through him; but then he won't have such a loadback of wealth after the sharks in the valley have picked at him a few days.—Lundy Index.

TRICK BICYCLE RIDING.

A JOURNAL reporter was invited to the pavilion yesterday afternoon to witness James Ordway, the expert bicycle rider, in his practice of trick riding. The reputation that Mr. Ordway has gained for himself is certainly deserved, one, for a bicycle to him is like a wild mustang to an old-time vaquero. He rides the wheel in every imaginable shape, first on one side then on the other, on top, behind, in front and with the wheel upside down. It is impossible to give any idea of the numerous tricks he performs, and as bicycle riding is the rage in Reno, it will be well worth the time spent to go to the pavilion this evening and see him ride.

He rides a nickel-plated Victor bicycle, and as he is a Reno raised boy there should be a large audience to greet him.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this Great Cough Medicine one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chests and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded.

Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

Deserving Praise.

Attention, Citizens!

The coming celebration of the 117th anniversary of American independence, July 4, 1893, in our city, will bring to us a large number of people to entertain. The general committee appeal to the public spirited citizens of Reno to make every effort to provide accommodations by furnishing rooms for visiting guests, making room whenever and wherever we can. Leave a list of all rooms possible to furnish at my office, with cost of same, where they will be carefully listed and assigned to visitors by competent clerks, who will attend to all details.

O'DOWD'S NEIGHBORS.

The Funniest of High-Class Comedy.

No comedy in recent years comes to this city with a stronger endorsement than that funniest of musical productions, "O'Dowd's Neighbors," which will be presented at the opera house next week. "O'Dowd's Neighbors" is a high class comedy, distinct and different from the so-called farce comedies of the day. It is not necessary to say that "O'Dowd's Neighbors" will have overflowing houses in this city. Mark Murphy, that irresistible comedian, who portrays the character of O'Dowd, manages to get all there is out of the part. The brim is full to the brim with fun, music, song and dance, and is lively and interesting from the start.

The splendid company consists in the most of Mr. Sam. J. Ryan, Miss Clara Thropp, Miss Jennie Murphy, Mr. Tom Watson and foremost, funny, little Mark Murphy. Many pretty girls with costumes displaying their graceful forms, and voicing their sweet vocal ability. The absurd farcical element combined with the more than liberal number of solos, concerted selections, etc., keeps one in constant laughter and merriment. Mark Murphy and his excellent company will meet with a rousing reception on their advent in this city.

All the latest topical songs, the four-legged freak dance and all the latest novelties will be given on his appearance here.

Doing Pugilistic.

A JOURNAL reporter was one of a large number of spectators who visited the training quarters of George McKenzie yesterday to witness him go through his daily work for the coming contest between he and Sam Barber which will take place on the evening of July 3d. He had just returned from a run of several miles in the country. He was clothed in a heavy "sweater" and was perspiring from every pore of his body. After a few moments' rest he proceeded to knock the wind out of punching bag and the agility and strength he displayed in doing it was marvelous.

After about half an hour spent at this severe exercise he proceeded to jump rope 500 times for the purpose of strengthening his legs. After completing this severe work he took a cold bath and was then briskly rubbed down by an attendant. After all was completed Mr. McKenzie walked out of his training quarters some lighter than he had been a few hours before and locked the picture of health and determination. If his antagonist is training as faithfully as he is—and reports say he is—those who witness the mill will see an exhibition equal to any that has ever taken place on the coast. Both men are very scientific and full of endurance and the probability is that will last at least thirty rounds.
